Missing Girl's Body Found In Ohio River

LOUISVILLE, KY., November 28.—(By the Associated Press)—Miss Margaret Dearth, 22, who disappeared from the home of her parents, Judge Clarence W. and Mrs. Dearth, in Muncie, Ind., November 1, and whose body was found floating in the Ohio river here yesterday, committed suicide, in the opinion of officials here today. Discovery of the missing body brought to an end a search for the missing girl.

Identification was accomplished through numbers on a wrist watch.

Coroner Roy Coker said what appeared to have been wounds on the head and face apparently were caused when the body struck rocks or drift-wood.

Dispatches from Muncie stated that Miss Dearth had been suffering from a great mental strain at the time of her disappearance. She previously had ruled an intention to go to some other city and end her life, first moving to a place of identification, in order to spare her parents, according to circulars distributed during the search.

Honors for Families

Living Long on Estates

PARIS, November 28.—(By the Associated Press)—The government announcement that it would decorate with the Order of Agricultural Merit, respectfully referred to as "The Lark," the heads of all families which could produce documentary evidence having furnished the same land continuously for at least three centuries, has brought to the fore no less than 750 families with the necessary qualifications. The decorations will be bestowed in a yearly issue of the Journal Officiel. The record is held by the D'Albignys, of Courville, near Angers. This family has lived on its estate since the year 772 in the time of Charlemagne.

Kenmore, O., Flooded

KENMORE, O., November 28.—(By the United Press)—Hundreds of thousands of gallons of water poured from the city reservoir and flooded the streets and cellars of many homes here today. The city is without fire protection of any kind because of the lack of pressure in the water pipes. The flood followed the opening of the flood gates of two huge dams which connect a lake and the reservoir. Efforts to stop the rush of water have been unavailing. The tops of the flood gates are missing and Service Director Ernest Schlegel is supposed to have them, is out of the city. A man who was seen floating around the reservoir, is believed to have opened the flood gates last night. Considerable damage already has been caused by flooded streets and overflowing sewers. City engineers report that water is backing up in sewers and flooding homes.

Hiram Johnson Opens Campaign; Indorses Bonus and Tax Cut

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIF., November 28.—(By the Associated Press)—Senator Hiram W. Johnson last night placed before the country some of the principles which will form the backbone of his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination.

Senator Johnson, during the course of his first public utterance since announcing himself a presidential candidate, expressed opposition to the administration's foreign policy, endorsed a soldiers' bonus and a plan for reduction of income taxes for the benefit of those with incomes of $10,000 or less, as well as suggested remedies for the country's agricultural ills.

Opposition to any policy that would commit America to "fundless European adventures" was declared.

"I do not protest against an American policy toward Europe," the California senator said, "I protest against an American policy which does not know what it is, and which seeks to discover itself, or to hide itself by first going into a conference with Europe."

"It is humiliating that we can not speak our mind save with the consent of the other nations, or in conjunction with them," he said. "If an administration does not like an existing situation abroad, why not say so? Our position in the world is such that our utterances would be of supreme importance. Throw it into conference where there are no morals, where it is helpless authority, and it is lost."

The candidate called the recent proposal for a reparations conference as "a transparent subterfuge, contrived by gentlemen, who having notoriously tried and having notoriously failed to get us into the politics of Europe directly through the League of Nations, now wish to get us into the politics of Europe through the indirect road of pretending that a participation in a European economic affairs in a conference called by governments and consisting of the appointees of governments, would not take us into European affairs."

He declared that the bonus pledge by responsible heads of the dominant political party constituted in reality a promise, a solemn pledge, "and we must keep faith." Even with the bonus, taxes could be reduced, Senator Johnson said.

Lower freight rates, extension of cooperative marketing and development of waterways were suggested by the senator as aids to agriculture.

Early in his speech the California senator asserted it was not enunciating a platform, but many of his hearers expressed belief that state measures he made would be incorporated as planks.

Handcuffs Man In Tunnel, Forgets Spot

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIF., November 28.—(By the Associated Press)—Authorities in the vicinity of Jackson, Calif., are searching for an old tunnel in which Philip Oleson, known as "Sonora Red," is believed to have lain for ten days, handcuffed and bound, according to a dispatch to the Examiner here.

James Kennard, a prisoner in the county jail at San Andreas, has confessed to Sheriff Joseph Swing that he handcuffed and tied Oleson ten days ago and left him in an old tunnel, the location of which he has forgotten.

Snag Hit In Efforts To Organize Republicans

WASHINGTON, November 28.—(By the Associated Press)—Despite continuing conferences of Republican leaders on the one hand and members of the progressive bloc on the other, organization problems in both the senate and house apparently were no nearer a solution today than they have been for some weeks.

Expectations of the majority leaders in the senate that Senator Cummings, of Iowa, would voluntarily give up one of his two places in the senate were upset by a decision of the senate to leave to his colleagues whether he shall continue as president pro tem and chairman of the interstate commerce committee.

Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, and other Republican leaders indicated their belief that Mr. Cummings would continue as president pro tem and that the selection of a candidate for that office would not even come before the Republican conference Saturday. Under a custom long standing in the senate, he automatically would be appointed to the committee chairmanship.

There has been strong sentiment, however, both among organization Republicans and the progressive bloc that the Iowa senator should not retain both places and it would not be surprising if a fight should be made to prevent him from doing so.

House progressives are working out details of their legislative and organization program. A committee charged with this duty, expects to have its draft prepared for presentation to a meeting of the entire group Friday morning.

Hitchcock An Astute Broker In Delegates

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1923.)

WASHINGTON, November 28.—Selection of Frank H. Hitchcock to manage the campaign of Senator Hiram Johnson for the Republican nomination for the Presidency is the political sensation of the hour today.

Mr. Hitchcock is known as the most astute broker in American politics. The mere announcement of his connection with a campaign means notice to other campaign managers that there will be a fight. And a fight by the Hitchcock tactics is something which usually results in a nucleus of first choices and some understandings as to second choices when the delegates are assembled, a political give-and-take system that is practiced in both the Republican and Democratic parties from time to time, but a system at which Mr. Hitchcock usually has been able to excel. C. B. Swan, private secretary to President Coolidge, knows the political game from the ground up and the forthcoming duel between him and Mr. Hitchcock will be worth watching, if indeed it becomes visible to the naked eye.

Mr. Hitchcock has had all sorts of experience. He managed the Roosevelt campaign in 1912 and then the Taft campaign in 1916. He stayed out of the 1912 fight but reappeared in 1916. He visited Charles Evans Hughes when the latter was on the Supreme Court bench but received not the slightest authority to go out and collect delegates. But he did so on his own responsibility and came to the Chicago convention with a nucleus of delegates for Hughes. He took a prominent part in the campaign afterward, being in charge of the Western headquarters. In 1920 he wasn't an active figure but when the Johnson managers this year looked around for a political manager whose name would

Auto Output On Increase

CHICAGO, November 28.—(By the Associated Press)—Automobile production of both passenger cars and trucks continues to increase, the federal reserve bank for the seventh district set out today in its November business conditions report. The output during October rose 11.5 per cent over that of September, said the report.

Manufacturers advised the federal reserve bank that the October production of passenger cars numbered 324,244, compared with 298,000 in September. The October output of trucks was shown to have increased from 27,841 to 29,033.

The volume of wholesale distribution of automobiles during October compared with the previous month, the report said, although it pointed out that retail sales in October were greater than those in the previous month both in number and value.

Consumption of iron and steel by 27 reporting casting foundries was in greater volume in October than in September, according to the bank summary. There was reported an increase over the average melt and shipments.

Favorable conditions were reported in the shoe manufacturing industry, tanning and hides.

Tomb, Dating From Time Of Christ, Bared Near Jerusalem

PHILADELPHIA, PA., November 28.—(By the Associated Press)—An undisturbed tomb dating from the time of Christ, has been discovered in the Valley of Kedron, near Jerusalem, according to word received from Dr. W. F. Albright, director of the American School of Oriental Research in Jerusalem. Dr. James Alan Montgomery, president of the school, announced today.

"The tomb contained more than a score of ossuaries," Dr. Albright wrote. "A dozen of these bore the names and genealogies of the occupants. All the dead apparently belonged to one family which flourished about the time of Christ. The slowly increasing number of such groups is already beginning to provide me with valuable material for the reconstruction and eventually for the history of the new testament period."

Dr. Albright also reported the finding of a sarcophagus, said to be the finest yet unearthed in Palestine. "The most reliable date is the second century after Christ," the letter said. "The beautiful sarcophagus is distinctly pre-Christian and can be compared with the Alexander sarcophagus, despite its undoubted excellence in workmanship."

Preliminary to undertaking the excavations Dr. Albright and his party conducted a survey of Palestine. They first visited Khirbet Thumath, identified with Thamar-Serah as the time of Joshua, successor of Moses in the leadership of Israel. They also identified the western town of Ain Seredah with Zeredah, the home of Jeroboam I, one of the early kings of Israel.

Message Completed

WASHINGTON, November 28.—(By the Associated Press)—President Coolidge put the finishing touches on his message to congress today and the document was sent to the printers. The message is comparatively brief, shorter than the average length of those sent to congress by Presidents Wilson and Harding.

The president has told visitors that he framed the message with a view to presenting explicit recommendations rather than arguments. His desire, he said, is to impress congress with the soundness of the recommendations with sufficient force to render arguments unnecessary.

Secrecy at Liquor Parley

OTTAWA, November 28.—(By the Associated Press)—Canadian and United States officials attending the international conference on liquor smuggling expected today to get down to hard facts in their discussion of methods proposed by the American government to end exportation of rum across the border.

Although strict secrecy was maintained, it was believed little was done at the opening of the conference yesterday other than for the Canadians to receive the United States proposals, which in effect were thought to be the same as those outlined in Washington before the conference opened. These proposals, it has been indicated, will find little favor in the eyes of Dominion officials.

Estimated Loss At Million And Half

DETROIT, MICH., November 28.—(By the Associated Press)—Fire starting from an overloaded stove in a waterman's shop early today, destroyed the Detroit and Windsor Ferry Company dock, housing United States immigration and customs offices, spread to the six-story Menger building, which was burned to the ground, and then destroyed a four-story warehouse and several small buildings on Woodward avenue and Bates street. When the fire was brought under control, a few minutes after five o'clock this morning, the total loss was estimated at $1,500,000.

Although three-fourths of the city's fire fighting equipment reached the scene twenty minutes after the first alarm, pouring fifty streams of water into the flames, the fire continued to press northward.

Three floors of the Menger building were occupied by the Finsterwald Company and the vanished furniture fed the flames faster than the firemen could conquer them. On another floor of the Menger building was the factory of the Eaton-Clark Company, five and a half stories, and small explosions there hampered the firemen.

The General Sales Company automobile store room on Woodward avenue, was next in the path of the flames which then spread to the Finsterwald Company's four-story warehouse on Bates street, the offices of the Lake Charles Association and the Lake Charles Hotel Company. The Schutte Cigar Company store on Woodward avenue, also was destroyed.

Ferry service between Windsor and Detroit was interrupted for several hours. At 7:00 o'clock two ferries, loaded with passengers coming to work here today, held in mid-stream awaiting a place to dock. Later they docked at Griswold street.

One hundred policemen were required to hold back the thousands of spectators attracted to the scene, despite the early hour, by the brilliant light of the flames.

Three persons were injured, one probably seriously.

Frank Kelly, a fireman, was knocked from a ladder when a loose slipper from the hands of a housewife fell thirty feet to the ground. Robert Yates, the watchman, was burned about the face and hands when he attempted to check the fire. Carl Kreslin, another watchman, was overcome by smoke.

Every downtown fire company, many from the outlying sections and three fire boats fought the flames.

Fire Hits Ohio Town

HILLSBORO, O., November 28.—(By the Associated Press)—Fire swept out the main business section of Mowbraytown, near here, early today. Three large business blocks were completely destroyed, the loss being estimated at $30,000.

The fire originated in the basement of Snyder's Department Store, which was destroyed, together with the Marquette and Roberts' General Store, and a restaurant. Work of the town fire department saved the city hall.

The cause of the fire is not known.

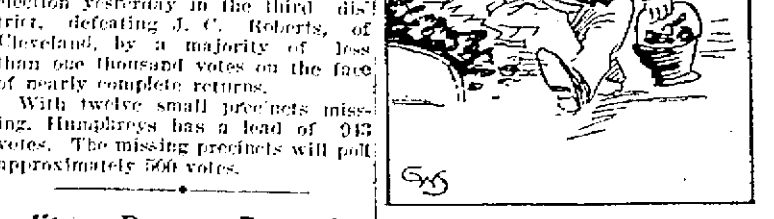

This was the second big fire in this vicinity in the last twenty-four hours, the Butler Springs Hotel burning yesterday with a loss of $25,000.

Huntington May Play Detroit Team

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., Nov. 28.—Huntington High, state champions of West Virginia, vs. Central High of Detroit, state champions of Michigan, Saturday, December 1, at Marshall Field. How does that sound to your football ears? Read it over carefully and slowly. Read it and tell us where you could ever look a better attraction. We even go so far as to announce that the odds are 100-to-1 that these two crack teams will sign a contract within the next few hours to scrap it out at the local yard.

Evidently Detroit Central has a whole lot to learn. During the present season they have won 9 games and lost one, playing against the best eleven in Michigan. There are ten high schools in the city of Detroit and Central has kicked the daylight out of them all. The challengers, as a team, average 158 pounds in weight. In this respect, at least, the two clubs would be evenly matched.

A recent issue of a Los Angeles paper had the following of local interest, particularly as many of the guests are former residents of this city and county:

As has been the custom from time to time, former residents of Johns town and vicinity, gathered in picnic assembly at Sycamore Grove Park, Los Angeles, California, on Sunday. The occasion was in honor of S. S. Wright of Croton, and his daughter, Mrs. James B. Wright, and daughter Dorothy of Akron, who were visiting his children, three of whom are numbered among the residents of Los Angeles.

The day was an ideal fall day with the temperature at 74 degrees, which is certainly just right for such an event. As you may have guessed the picnic was a most beautiful one. The grounds, the season of the year had also contributed its share of beauty to the park by carpeting the ground with the appropriately colored autumn leaves. We mention this fact as it is more novel in Los Angeles than the lovely green lawns. Practically all ornamental trees and shrubbery and a considerable number of the native trees are green the year around.

It was a typical picnic dinner (the good ladies had prepared and spread on a table, or rather it was a table, totaling thirty feet in length. There was sufficient evidence of the good things to eat. Fried chicken, meat sandwiches of several kinds, baked beans, hot macaroni, cheese, potato salad, ripe olives, green stuffed olives, preserved figs, bread and butter and jelly, cakes of many kinds, coffee, after dinner mints and watermelon constituted the menu. Not so bad!

After the hungry appetites had been satisfied the fragment of the picnic was given over to renewing old friendships and making new ones. Taking pictures, group and otherwise was also indulged in, as the park affords some very pretty back grounds.

The names of those privileged to enjoy this Johnstown picnic, the largest yet held, follow: S. S. Wright of Croton and Mrs. James B. Wright and daughter, Dorothy, of Akron—thirty only out of town guests, all the others being happy to call Los Angeles home: Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hartley, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Hartley, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Newman and son, Paul, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Phil Burgess, Mrs. Frank McArthur, Helen, Mary and Dorothy and sons, Charles and Howard, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Smith, Dr. and Mrs. H. Drink Water to Help Wash Out Kidney Poison

When your skin kidneys hurt and your back feels sore don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulates to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active. Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts: take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice and combined with other salts, has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Advertisement

All Was Well Until Lewis Co. Man Bumped Into Police Judge After Going on Rampage

VANCEBURG, KY., Nov. 28.—James Kirk, farmer of near Covadale, Ky., while in a state of intoxication last night, went into the store of Julius Ashenbrenner at Concord, Ky., and started a rough house when John Darnell, police judge, appeared and told him to be quiet or he would arrest him. Kirk, it is claimed, said there were not enough men in Concord to do that. Darnell then told him that if there were not he would telephone to Vanceburg and perhaps there would be enough in Vanceburg.

At this remark Kirk, it is said, tore the telephone from the wall and said Darnell would neither arrest him nor use the telephone.

Darnell then knocked Kirk down and held him while Sheriff Frank Lykins under urgent call hurried to Concord and brought the prisoner to Vanceburg and lodged him in the county jail where he awaits his trial.

DONAHEY CALLS ENFORCEMENT PARLEY

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 28.—(By the A. P.)—Gov. Donahey today called a conference of Federal, state, county and municipal law enforcement officers to meet here December 7 to outline a program for cooperation in the enforcement of the prohibition laws. The conference is in line with the suggestion of President Coolidge at the conference of governors in Washington several weeks ago.

Invitations to attend the conference were sent out tonight to all prosecuting attorneys, magistrates, municipal judges and city solicitors. The meeting is to be held in the local chamber of commerce auditorium, beginning at 10 a. m. and continuing throughout the day.

On the program for addresses, suggestions, reports and discussions are Gov. Donahey, who will explain the purpose of the conference and also make suggestions for better cooperation on the part of Federal, state and local forces. Federal Prohibition Commissioner J. E. Russell will report on Federal enforcement in Ohio and State Prohibition Commissioner B. F. McDonald will make a similar report on enforcement of the state prohibition laws. Attorney General C. C. Crabbe will make suggestions to prosecuting attorneys.

Local Officials on List.

Various local authorities will participate in 10 minute discussion of their difficulties in enforcing the prohibition law with suggestions how to meet them. Two of each set of local officials have been designated to start the discussions after which all may participate. For the mayors, D. J. Zhan of Cleveland and W. E. Cunningham of Girard are to lead the discussions; for the prosecuting attorneys, C. A. Maxwell of Muskingum county and Wayne L. Feltz of Lawrence county; for the sheriffs, Howard Webster, Dayton, and W. L. Lewis, Washington, C. H.; for the city solicitors, E. S. Randolph, Newark, and Robert E. Hutchinson, Mansfield; for police judges, Joseph L. Hedderon, Youngstown, and Fred J. Miller, Columbus.

How to enforce the provisions of the prohibition law also is to receive considerable attention. This subject to be presented by Federal District Attorney A. E. Bernstein of Cleveland and Peter D. Bell of Butler county.

The conference is not to be solely for officers. One private citizen is to discuss what all private citizens can do to aid officials in the enforcement of the laws and one newspaper editor also is to use 10 minutes in telling what newspapers can do in this respect.

Chief Justice C. T. Marshall will tell what the State Supreme Court has said on their law enforcement

To Be Important Event.
In his letter inviting officials to the conference, Gov. Donahey declares that the conference "is important from every viewpoint" and that "each of us have sworn to support the constitution of the state and nation and faithfully and impartially enforce the laws regardless of our personal attitude on the question involved."

Concluding his letter, Gov. Donahey said "I therefore urge you to come to this conference and bring with you all your difficulties that we may sit down and reason together and map out a program that will federate all the governmental agencies in the state toward the same end and for the accomplishment of the same purpose and that we may fully discharge our duties as officers."

Held For Death Threat.
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 28.—A young man who gave his name as Arthur H. Hampton and his address as Marion, Ga., is under arrest here charged with attempted extortion under threat of death. Mrs. J. Howard Bell of this city received a letter threatening her life and that of her 3-year-old daughter unless she paid over $2,000 to a man who would call at her home with a note sent by the writer of the letter. Postal inspectors set a trap and arrested Hampton when he called at the house with the note.

Hampton told the police he is innocent of any intended wrongdoing. He said he came here on a ship and was out of employment. He met a man on the street who asked him to deliver a note at the address he gave him, wait for an answer and return to a street corner. When the police took Hampton to the street corner the man he said employed him could not be found.

Gets New Trial.
COLUMBUS, Nov. 28.—Lafayette Sanborn, 33, convicted in the Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court of criminally assaulting a 12-year-old girl, will get a new trial as a result of refusing the state's request for a review of the appellate court's finding which reversed and remanded the case for new trial. The appellate court had reversed on the ground that the jury had found Sanborn guilty of an offense not covered by the indictment. Sanborn had been sentenced to two years in the penitentiary.

"The Red Top" means that you can ride anywhere in Columbus for one dollar, and there is also the Checker Board Company. The Red Top does not meet the taxi but you can get it in a jiffy if you will go into the booth at the Union station and call Main 6444. If you are short on funds you can collect at the other end of the line. Just tell the woman you haven't any change and have her give it to you since she is going to pay you later anyway.

Sally Ann SAYS

Tomorrow is Thanksgiving Day, one of the best beloved of our national holidays; the day of the big Turkey Dinner, reunion at Grandma's, dances, celebrations and various activities.

Sometimes in frivolous festivities we forget the more serious aspect of the day. For the day was founded by the Puritan progenitors as a day of earnest prayers of thanksgiving to the all wise Providence who had given them this glorious land of freedom where they could worship Him in their own way.

I don't want to seem "preachin'" but I do think we ought to pause for a few minutes tomorrow and reflect how fortunate we are to have been born in this great land of civil and religious liberty, where all men are equal. And really spontaneous prayers of thanksgiving should rise from our lips, for we are the most favored nation on the face of the globe.

Let us remember that Thanksgiving Day is exactly what its name implies—a day for real and heartfelt thanksgiving.

More Thursday.

"LUMPITY LUMPITY," said the Riddle Lady, "you must not get offended at my new riddle. It isn't about you at all. It just sounds as though it was. It's called Lumpity Lumpity, and the answer is not an egg. It's something entirely different and cannot be eaten. Is everybody ready?"

"Yes!" shouted all the Riddle Land people, for every one was anxious to see who would get the prize today. The Twins decided not to guess too hard, for already, since coming to Riddle Land, they had guessed most of the answers.

"Well, then here it is," smiled the Riddle Lady. "Put on your thinking caps!"

"Lumpity Lumpity's up in the air. Sometimes he's round, sometimes he's square. Sometimes thin, but often thick. His suit is stone and trimmed with brick."

"Lumpity Lumpity's breath is hot. Perhaps it's fever, but I think not. Summer's heat nor winter's chill. Ne'er caused Lumpity a doctor bill."

"This boy wants to see the sights here," explained the fellow who had let Jack into the Tower of Ticks. "Well, well, well," laughed Ticky. "You shall see all of the sights we have. And you can bring your dog right with you because he looks like a watch dog and he'll feel at home here."

Jack thanked Ticky and then took his own watch out of his pocket. "I really came up here to see if you can fix this," he said. And Ticky took a lot of ticks and then it will run fine again." (Continued.)

THE BEST AND BIGGEST EVER

Balancing up its books for the close of its twenty-ninth year in business, this association finds that it has had the best and biggest twelve months of its long and useful career.

Every institution, conducted honorably and energetically, takes pride in its growth, that is the visible and outward sign of its prosperity and stability. If it does not go forward, it is mighty apt to go backward. The Commercial has always gone forward. Twenty-nine years old it has advanced each year and 1923 finds it with one hundred and twenty times the assets it had in 1895, the first year of its beginning.

But that is not all the pride of the Commercial. It rejoices more in the benefit it has done to the community, the help it has brought to thousands of persons. For the Commercial was not organized and it was not meant to be operated for the profit of its managers. It was meant as an aid to build up the town and to afford its inhabitants an absolutely safe place where they might place their savings, no matter how small, receiving a fair return thereon and gradually accumulating a substantial safeguard against the contingencies of the future.

Right nobly has it performed this mission. It has been the aid by which many dwellings have been erected, hundreds securing homes and thousands learning the invaluable lesson of thrift — the simple, but potent art of saving a little bit at a time and seeing it grow into something big in years that one is scarcely consciousness of lapsing.

In doing this it has achieved a record, that, probably, is not paralleled by any other building and loan association of this or any other state, that has been operating over a period of years, that is to say it has never lost a dollar on a loan, never taken in real estate on foreclosure and has paid six per cent dividend every year.

This remarkable, this altogether unusual result is the outgrowth of its policy of always putting safety first. A building association operates by taking money from its stockholders and depositors and loaning the sums thus accumulated on first mortgage on real estate, at two-thirds its value. The borrower pays part of interest and principal weekly and thus helps to make up another loan with the stock dues and deposits coming in weekly also.

It's a small business in its component parts, but a wonderful, a magnificent business in its entirety and the results wrought by it. Look at our comparative table below of growth and you will get a better idea of how big it is, what magic it works, than any words of ours can convey. You'll see we have $350,000 more in loans this year than we had last. That means we have loaned that much more money to persons to acquire homes. That means about half a million dollars passed through our hands, better still it means we paid out around $75,000 in dividends and best of all it means that but for this association many would have no roof of their own over their heads, means thousands who now have a tidy nest egg would not have a cent. By us they have been able to acquire a home, through us they have learned to put by something regularly.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Adv.

Fist Fight On Street

SPRINGFIELD, November 28.—(By the Associated Press.)—As a result of a fist fight between City Commissioner John D. Forek and Dr. J. E. Browne, dentist, in the business center of the city today, Forek has a black eye, while the dentist has a scratched nose and split lip. The encounter was declared to be an aftermath of the recent election when Forek was defeated for another term. Forek charged that Browne made derogatory remarks about him in the campaign which Browne does not deny. Versions of the two as to who struck the first blow, differ, but it was said the battle went several minutes before the participants were separated by bystanders.

Will Take More Than Pep To Defeat Dempsey

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Louis Angel Firpo expects to return to the United States next year with "five hundred per cent more pep" and capture "for his beloved country" the world's heavyweight title he nearly topped from Jack Dempsey's head last September at the Polo Grounds.

This declaration was contained today in a cablegram received by Tex Rickard from the Argentine heavyweight who, despite charges that he was not accorded justice in the Dempsey fight by the state athletic commission, conveyed his respects to the commission and its chairman, William Muldoon.

Hitchcock

mean something to prospective delegates they selected Frank Hitchcock, Illinois, has it that they tried to get John T. King of Connecticut, and also Will Hayes but that neither one would accept.

Mr. Hitchcock has a way of bringing contesting delegations to the conventions. His main source of strength is in the south though he has many friends in different parts of the country, friends who have worked with him from the days when he dispensed offices in the postoffice department over which he presided. He knows many former Federal office holders those who would like to have the jobs held by others, and who are taking an active part in local politics. He knows how to play on the strings of local factional discontent and make the most of his opportunities.

The only question which arises is how much Mr. Hitchcock can do in the south where there are today fewer delegates than before due to the reapportionment. In the states of South Carolina, Georgia and Mississippi, for instance, there are only about seven delegates in each state as against fifty-one in the "good old days."

Similarly the Presidential primary has entered into the situation in many states and the pledging of delegates to go against a primary verdict is not easy unless the men who run for delegates are not handicapped. Generally speaking, the regular Republican organizations will go for President Coolidge and they will see to it that delegates are chosen who will stick to the instructions of the primaries or state conventions. Some delegations will be persuaded to doubt to switch at the psychological moment but the game now is to pick the right kind of delegates and make sure of their allegiance.

Mr. Hitchcock has the promises of the past and methods of persuasion that have been effective in the past. The White House strategists have jobs already to give. Witness, for instance, the situation in South Carolina where the distinguished Republican leaders who naturally control delegations, have recently been satisfied by the graceful disposition of the right kind of patronage. No trouble is anticipated there in holding the delegates for Coolidge. The situation in Georgia is in process of being worked out. As for the West, particularly South Dakota, it turns out that the recent primaries do not mean so much after all as some of the statutes have been repealed on which it was thought the delegates would have to go instructed by the primary verdict.

They can go uninstructed. This means that they can all keep an anchor to windward and tack to the Coolidge side if it looked as if the President has been pledged enough delegates to insure his nomination.

The campaign has begun. Frank Hitchcock's entry into the lists means that the competition for delegates will be keen and that the politicians are wont to describe as "a rough and tumble fight with bare knuckles."

Coolidge Message To Provide Harding Memorial Service

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—Formal action by Congress in respect to the late President Harding, to die while Congress was in adjournment, will not be taken on the opening day of the new session. Leaders decided today to await the address of President Coolidge formally announcing the death of his predecessor before presenting any resolutions regarding Mr. Harding. Adjustments of both branches of Congress on the opening day, therefore, will be taken out of respect to deceased senators and representatives and at a later day Congress will adjourn out of respect to Mr. Harding and also hold a joint memorial service.

"Raise Wheat" Drive Boosts French Crop; Near Pre-war Size

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—France is producing about 90 per cent as much wheat as it did before the war, according to Department of Agriculture reports made public today and progress in restoring the soil, factories and mines to working order has increased the population in that area from 2,000,000 at the time of the Armistice to 4,207,000 at present.

The French wheat production of 290,474,000 bushels in 1923, an increase of about 50,000,000 over the 1922 crop, is attributed to a "raise wheat" campaign conducted by the government which resulted in an increased planting of about 600,000 acres. All except 1,000,000 of the 8,000,000 acres in the war zone requiring treatment have been cleared of barbed wire and trenches while explosives have been removed from practically the entire acreage. Almost all soil formerly under cultivation that can be made to yield again is said to be under cultivation.

Turkey Sells As Low As 19 Cts. In Chicago Market

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—Reports of the plentiful supply of turkeys this year were fully corroborated today when South Water street merchants sold the Thanksgiving bird at from 25 to 37 cents a pound and department stores generally advertised fancy No. 1 young, fresh killed, dry picked birds at as low as 29 cents. One store offered young corn fed turkeys at 19 cents a pound. The South Water street prices were from 10 to 15 cents below last year's prices.

Geese generally retailed at 27 cents and ducks at 32 cents. All prices for fowls were much lower than a year ago, geese selling wholesale at 24 cents.

Hogs Sacrificed In Overloaded Market, Farmers Are Warned

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—Overloading of the terminal markets by unrestricted shipments of hogs will inevitably be followed by a corresponding shortage after February Everett C. Brown, president of the National Livestock Exchange, declared here today and predicted it farmers hold back one-third of what they would have shipped, hog prices will advance at least $2 in the next 60 or 50 days. His statement follows:

"Hog meat is the cheapest food product in America. The tremendous oversupply of hogs in all the terminal markets during October, November and December will mean a corresponding shortage after February 1, next year. I predict that the average packing drive of hogs in Chicago will cost $2 per 100 more in February than the same kind of a drive can be bought at today, or possibly a low spot in December, if the hog producers continue to ship their hogs regardless of price."

"Commission men all over the United States regret the fact that all over the United States are sacrificing their hogs at prevailing ruinous prices when there is such a bright prospect in 1924."

Big Auto Merger Is Still Hung Up But May Come Off

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—The reported merger of the Maxwell Motor Car Company with the Studebaker Corporation failed to materialize today, although directors of each corporation met separately, presumably to act on the proposal.

A. N. Erskine, president of the Studebaker company, who came from South Bend, Ind., to preside at that company's board meeting, said there was nothing to give out on the meeting, while Pules S. Inche, a Maxwell director, asserted the reported negotiations with the Studebaker company had not been discussed.

Belgium Ready To Withdraw Troops

BRUSSELS, Nov. 28.—(By the A. P.)—The Belgian government, it is learned in official quarters, soon will raise in friendly conversations with France the question of a partial withdrawal of the forces in the Ruhr. Now that active and passive resistance is considered ended the Belgians hope to bring back 5,000 of their men from the Ruhr by Christmas.

The question will be discussed with the Paris government as soon as the Ruhr situation is stabilized. M. Jaspar, the Belgian foreign minister in a recent speech in the chamber, recalled the fact that France and Belgium were pledged to leave the Ruhr proportionately as the German's fulfilled their reparation obligations.

Climax Is Near In Probe Of Alleged Quacks By Jurors
HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 28.—(By The A. P.)—Examination of witnesses without other official action occupied the attention again today of Connecticut's grand jury investigating alleged medical frauds, at the longest day's session since the inquiry began.

Important developments were expected at tomorrow's session which probably will be the last to be held this week. Members of the Connecticut Eclectic examining board have been asked by State's Attorney H. M. Alcorn to meet here at that time to action which the grand jury may desire.

Included among witnesses examined today were Dr. Charles B. Prior, of the Massachusetts board of medical registry and Dr. Stanley H. Osborne, Connecticut state health commissioner.

Foreigners Swindled Three "Giving Away" Marshlands

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Foreigners in the last few years have been swindled out of approximately $12,000,000 by a ring of real estate sharks selling undeveloped marsh lands within a fifty mile radius of New York, James G. Wilson, deputy assistant district attorney, testified today before the joint legislative committee investigating immigrant exploitation. Mr. Wilson said that the sharks would supply free tickets for a Sunday inspection trip to a tract of lands and would tell their guests that lucky number would draw a lot. The lots, the witness continued, were worth about $10 each and covered by a blanket mortgage. Each guest 'won' a lot, but was charged $10.50 to cover legal fees for transfer of property. Mr. Wilson said the figure of $10.50 was set so as to keep within the pelfy-larceny limit of $50.

The witness said the ring could be stopped by special legislation in both New York and New Jersey exercising a closer supervision over property transfer. Mr. Wilson also gave other instances of alien exploitation that had come to his attention. One case was that of a boot-black who was 'sold' a half interest in the Pennsylvania Terminal for $500.

Earlier in the day Miss Marion K. Clark, chief of the alien division of the state labor department, testified that aliens in mines and labor camps in this state were living under conditions that amounted almost to peonage. She stated that the victims were without legal protection because the state bureau of immigration established in 1910 by the Hughes committee, had been wiped out by the legislature in 1921.

Mussolini's Power Extended; Dictator Given New Lease

ROME, Nov. 28.—(By the A. P.)—At a cabinet council today, it was unanimously decided that the full powers of government now exercised by Premier Mussolini should be extended. The ministers also approved the organization of 'supreme commission for national defense.' The duration of the full powers given the premier was left to the discretion of Signor Mussolini, who will present the project of extending his rule to parliament. This will be done November 29 and little opposition is expected. It is generally understood the dictatorship will extend for another year. All the parties of the right have agreed to support the premier, but the Socialists and Communists and a few isolated members of parliament will make address opposing the extension.

The new supreme defense commission will be composed of the premier and the ministers of foreign affairs, interior, finance, war, navy, colonies and economy and the commissioners for aeronautics. The chiefs of staff of the army and navy will have consultative votes. A special subcommittee on general mobilization will operate under the supreme commission.

Increase Is Shown In Production For Last Four Months

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—An increase of 3 per cent in production of basic commodities—the first increase to be recorded in four months—fostered business conditions during October and the first half of November, according to a review issued today by the Federal Reserve Board. While principally due to resumption of anthracite mining, the increase was declared also to reflect augmented activity in textiles, lumber, sugar and most of the other industries included in the board's index list.

Volume of freight shipments and wholesale trade continued above normal, the review showed, while wholesale prices and employment were substantially unchanged. Contracts awarded for new buildings increased 25 per cent over September and throughout the country were 'considerably' more than is usual at this season.

Projects forming a large preparation than in any previous month of the current year. 'Heavy movement of miscellaneous merchandise and livestock,' the board said. Wholesale trade was 12 per cent larger than a year ago and sales in all leading lines except shoes showed in ease. Department stores sales were 13 per cent larger than last October and sales of mail order houses, were the largest of any month since 1919.

'Wholesale prices declined less than 1 per cent in October, according to the index of the Bureau of Labor statistics and stood approximately at the level of a year ago.

Bank Robbed Twice Within Two Weeks; Bandits Work Ruse

KANSAS CITY, MO., Nov. 28.—For the second time in two weeks the Independence Avenue Bank here was robbed today. Three unmasked robbers forced four persons to lie face downward on the floor and escaped with $5,000 in currency and silver. On November 14, four bandits held up the bank and escaped with $1,500.

The robbery today was staged while the special bandit squad from police headquarters answered a fake building call from another section of the city. A similar ruse was used in the other robbery.

Julian Wornall, vice president, said the robbers did not resemble those who held up the bank 13 days ago.

Turkey About the Same, But Trimmings Lower

COLUMBUS, O., November 28.—native Texan this year because Buck (By the United Press)—Although the eye farmers will be unable to supply central figure of the Thanksgiving demand, Barnes said. Compared with last year, Barnes said, wholesale prices for turkeys on Thanksgiving will be generally lower, Paul T. Barnes, state federal market inspector, said today. Wholesale prices for turkeys will be lower, but a slight increase in volume of business this year over 1922 is responsible for the reduction. The Ohio Thanksgiving turkey will be a little down one cent.

TRACY WOULD AVOID LOAN WHEN BUILDING

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 28.—The proposed new state office building should be built with money from the general revenue fund. Instead of money borrowed from the state industrial commission State Auditor Tracy, suggested yesterday to the building commission.

Mr. Tracy said the state will have Jan. 1, a cash balance of $21,000,000, 2,000,000 more than the previous high point reached Dec. 30, 1922. The state has no immediate use for the money, it is an economic waste to let it lie idle in the bank, he said. The proposal will not hamper other legitimate demands on the fund, Tracy said, and there is no necessity for the state to pay interest charges on the $3,000,000 required for the building. The saving to the state by thus using money from the general revenue fund would be approximately $185,000 a year.

According to Mr. Tracy, the cash balance in the general revenue fund has grown by leaps and bounds since 1918, when it was $6,100,000, until Sept. 1, 1923, when it contained more than $11,000,000. It is estimated there will be on hand $21,000,000 by Jan. 1.

Plans For Million Dollar Memorial To Harding Are Bared

MARION, O., Nov. 28.—Plans for honoring the late President Warren G. Harding with a memorial which, it is estimated, will cost not less than $1,000,000 were revealed here today by Brig. Gen. Charles E. Sawyer, in an address before the Greater Marion Committee of 100. Gen. Sawyer, who was President Harding's private physician, said he came to Ohio to organize the work of the Harding Memorial Association.

Gen. Sawyer said the plans are to set up the old Harding residence on Mount Vernon avenue as it was when it was occupied by the late President and Mrs. Harding. By making it a national shrine and 'arranging it just as Warren G. Harding knew it,' he contends, 'the thousands' who visit it will get a better understanding of the conditions under which he lived and better appreciate his greatness.

There are already two carloads of Harding souvenirs in storage here, Gen. Sawyer said. These, he declared, will be placed in an especially constructed library building at the Harding home site.

Train Victim Better

A slight change for the better was noted today in the condition of Norman Cordle, 16, of Candy Run, near Lucasville, who was badly hurt when the automobile, in which he was riding with his father and brother, was struck by an N. & W. passenger train at a grade crossing near Lucasville a few days ago. The father and brother were killed in the accident.

Being Thankful Is Not Just A Habit

Thanksgiving Day—How much more it is than just a holiday in our calendar! We pause to feast—but the big point is, to pause to remember the feasts we have enjoyed during every day of the year!

It is easy to think of prosperity as a matter-of-course—but it is not so easy to forget adversity, should our prosperous country ever experience a serious calamity.

When we carve the turkey this year, let's really take it to heart, that the harvest of prosperity is richer than a year ago—or for many years, and really be thankful.

ARTHUR J. GARVIN

Word has been received here of the death of a former well-known Portsmouth boy, Arthur J. Garvin, who recently passed away in a hospital in Buffalo, N. Y. He was operated upon and apparently was making rapid strides toward recovery when gangrene developed, and it soon resulted in his death.

In addition to his wife, Mrs. Nelle Burgess Garvin, he leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Garvin, long prominent citizens of Portsmouth, and one sister, Mrs. Alma Wauson, of Orlando, Fla. They were at Mr. Garvin's bedside when he passed away. He was born in this city August 20, 1880, and leaves many friends here to mourn the passing of a congenial and affable young man. He left here about 15 years ago, and after traveling in several cities, among them being several in Canada, he located permanently in Buffalo, where he had been engaged in business for ten years.

Arthur (Dude) Garvin was educated in the Portsmouth schools, and his parents resided on Washington street, near Seventh, for many years. He was industrious, faithful to every trust reposed in him, and his death cut short a promising business career, as Mr. Garvin was doing well in Buffalo. Until operated upon he apparently was in the best of health, and the news of his death with came as a cruel blow to old friends and former associates in Portsmouth. His body was forwarded to Orlando, where internment took place in Greenwood cemetery, as Mr. and Mrs. Garvin had located there permanently. Mr. Garvin having invested heavily in Florida real estate.

A lingering illness and years of suffering terminated at 2:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon for John Wales, 74, who passed away at the home of his son in law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Reinhardt, 1514 Tenth Street.

Union Services in Local Churches Tomorrow New Boston High School Students Present A Very Clever Play; Is Repeated Tonight

Booth Tarkington's rollicking comedy, "Penrod," which delighted an almost capacity audience in the Glenwood high school, New Boston, Tuesday night, will be presented a second time tonight by the high school students, with Lester Benser in the title role, which was in the capable hands of Knowle Taylor, at the first performance.

Orman Adams, as Sam, Penrod's faithful buddy, gave a characterization that was almost professional. Young Adams showed a sense of the value of a show, which is rare in amateurs. Joseph Price, as Yorman, the tongue-tied little colored boy, literally "stopped the show," as they say on Broadway, for the audience laughed uproar-ously every time he opened his mouth. Marvella Kelly was a likeable Bob, the young suitor for the hand of Penrod's sister, Margaret, charmingly played by Mabel Killen. The love affairs of this young couple will run in the hands of Nellie McCann and Elizabeth Aldridge at tonight's performance. Adaline Pitch gave a most amusing portrayal of Della, the Schofield's Irish cook, and William Brown was adequate as her slow-witted nephew, Jarge. Willard Norris, as Penrod's father, was most convincing, and won several laughs by his portrayal of the inconsistent male. Other characters were acceptably presented by the supporting cast, follows: Marjorie Jones, Kathleen Adams; George Bassett, Dendil O'Neal; Rev. Lester Kinsling, Jos. Wintercole; Herman, Samuel Adams; Mary Schofield, Penrod's mother, Lorena Elliott; Mrs. Baggett, Annie Ottney; Tim, Forrest Keagley; Herbert Hamilton Dade, Teddy Stratton; Mr. Combs, the chief of police, Victor Barnes.

Music by the Trinity M. E. orchestra, under the direction of Miss Alice Blake, added greatly to the finish of the performance.

The young actors have been carefully coached by the members of the faculty, to whom the credit must be given for an artistically staged production.

Death Calls John M. Slavens

Another of Scioto county's native sons, John M. Slavens, answered the final summons today, death coming at six o'clock this morning in the County Infirmary on the West Side, where he had been making his home for about three months.

Complications developed from infirmities and following a long illness due to locomotor ataxia, Mr. Slavens went to the County Home from Hempstead hospital, where he received treatment for some time.

Friends believe that shock caused by the sudden death of his wife, hastened the end. Mrs. Beatrice Slavens died Sunday, June 24, of a fractured skull sustained two days before, or on Friday, June 22, when she leaped from the second story window of the Eagles' building, Second and Court streets, where Mr. and Mrs. Slavens had been residing for some time. After her death and burial in Louisville, Ky., Mr. Slavens declined rapidly.

John M. Slavens was 75 years of age, and was born in Madison township, not far from Stockport, Pike county, a son of Stuart and Charlissa Schoonover Slavens. The father, born in Virginia, came to Scioto county with his parents on pack horses. The mother was a native of New York state.

For forty years Mr. Slavens worked as a traveling salesman for firms selling school supplies. Later he engaged in the work of selling insurance, coming to Portsmouth from Louisville, where Mr. and Mrs. Slavens lived for a long time. He had been living in Portsmouth about fifteen years. For several years his illness had prevented him from doing work of any kind.

A brother, Charles Slavens, was twice elected county treasurer in Scioto county.

The closest surviving relatives are nephews and nieces in Pike county and northern Ohio. Friends of Mr. Slavens sent relatives word of his death today.

Local Court Adjourns During the Last Rites of Late Sam M. Johnson

As a mark of respect to the memory of Attorney Samuel M. Johnson, for many years an honored member of the Scioto County Bar Association and an officer of the court, Judge Thomas halted the trial of the damage suit of Mary Jane See against the Portsmouth Street Railway and Light Company at noon today and adjourned Common Pleas Court during the hours of the funeral in order to give the attorneys and others engaged in the hearing an opportunity to attend the last rites.

The evidence was practically concluded when court adjourned at noon and it was indicated when the hearing was resumed at 3 o'clock this afternoon that Judge Thomas will send the case to the jury late this evening.

Plaintiff sued on a claim for $1,173 damages for personal injuries which, she claims, to have sustained in a fall from a street car at Market road and Gallia street on April 28, 1920.

Mrs. See testified that as she was leaving the car at the rear exit the sleeve of her coat was caught between the double folding doors closed by the conductor and that she was held fast until the car had started forward when, she claims, she was released, causing her to be thrown violently to the brick paving, breaking her left arm and otherwise injuring her about the left shoulder and side.

The defense contended that plaintiff was entirely responsible for her own injuries through her own carelessness and in opening the rear door herself and jumping off the car while it was still in motion and the evidence of the crew in charge of the car at the time, George Schneider, motorman, and Gordon Sheets, conductor, supported this claim.

Attorneys McLaughlin and Staker appeared for plaintiff and Attorneys Miller & Searl for the defense.

Local Man Is Fined In Columbus; Admits He Stole Car, Police Say

COLUMBUS, November 28.—John Adkins, 35, Portsmouth, was fined $50 and costs today in Municipal Court on a charge of intoxication, and police are holding him for further investigation. Adkins was arrested with three Columbus youths, who gave their names as James Murphy, Mike Marcus and Walter Miller, and who police said were driving an automobile in a zig-zag fashion on city streets. Adkins, according to police, said he stole the car here. He will be detained until a report is obtained on the automobile.

Police received word this noon that Orin B. Oakes' Ford sedan, stolen from Fourth street last Saturday night, had been found in Columbus, and that a man giving the name of John Adkins had been arrested when found in charge of the car. Police wired Columbus officers to hold the man and car as an officer will be sent for them.

More Than Slight Error in Figures

Notice the annual report of the Commercial and Loan Association. It tells not only a wonderful story of its own growth, but it betokens likewise the magnificent development of Portsmouth within the present generation.

Which just reminds us, that in running the Commercial's report in Sunday's issue, we made a colossal blunder. Said in its twenty years of existence it had increased its assets 12 times. Ridiculous. It should have read one hundred and twenty times. That sounds almost incredible, doesn't it? But the figures are there in black and white to prove it.

Much Better

Mrs. G. H. Lawson, 1903 High street, who has been seriously ill for several days from the effects of ptomaine poisoning, was reported much better today.

SIKI, RUNNING WILD, TE RMED A COLOR ED "COAL OIL JOHNNY"

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Battling Siki is running wild somewhere in the heatland about Freddy Welsh's Summit, N. J., health farm, the elusive quarry of a searching party formed by his manager, Robert Moe Levy. The battler, who became noted by pranks in France, escaped Sunday night with money in his pockets.

"Sucker that I am," Levy explained, "I gave him a whole thousand dollars when he asked for spending money and I tell him to be careful. But what do I find him doing Harlem an hour later? I ask you what I find? He is making himself a color Coal Oil Johnny and is giving away his money, just like that."

"I try to make him quit and what do I get? I get chased, but I get away and later we capture the battler. In a taxicab he goes and we drive to Fred Welsh's out to Summit, a whole $27.50 worth, which I have to pay. Then I open the door and the battler leaps out like a panther, swings off the limb of a tree, jumps a fence, whooping and is gone."

"It is the first time I tried to keep a Senegalese. First I am afraid I won't find him, then I am afraid I will. Anyway if you see anybody what sees him, tell him to tell him to come home and everything is forgiven."

P. H. S. CLOSES LOCAL FOOTBALL SEASON TOMORROW WITH FAST NORTH HI TEAM

Columbus Eleven To Have Strong Lineup

Portsmouth high's representatives on the gridiron will play their final game of the season which also will be the final high school game for several of the players Thursday afternoon on the sixteenth street lot with North Hi of Columbus furnishing the opposition. The game will be called promptly at two o'clock on account of getting the game over before dark.

In North Hi the Red and Blue eleven faces one of the hardest teams it has met this season. Word from Columbus is that the high school champions of that city are as heavy as the Hamilton high school squad that performed here early in the season. Along with these reports is the one that the North team does not play the high class brand of football expected of such a heavy team. P. H. S. players watched North Hi in one game this season and have some idea of how they play. The North team has used the aerial game with much success this season and P. H. S. has been practicing on breaking up just this kind of play. North Hi has won five games and tied two, and did not have any trouble in winning the high school championship of Columbus.

Mitchell, star quarterback on the visiting team is a former Ironton high school player. He is a runner and accurate passer, and will have to be watched closely. Bell, fullback, Vaid and Brodbeck, halves, are husky lads and that means the local nine will have to hold firm to stop their line rushes. North also boasts of a line which averages closely to the 170 pound mark and that means P. H. S. will have to resort to a different brand of football than line bucking. The locals worked a passing game very successfully against Trade and in the Ashland game last Saturday and no doubt, will use it against the heavy visiting team tomorrow afternoon.

Captain Ellsworth with a dry field should give the opposition something to worry about on end runs. He will have able assistants in Gose, Moore and Thompson on the halves. McCool will be back in the game at fullback, star end, will be out of the game with injuries. Flowers, who so skillfully filled his shoes last week will be on with Armstrong on the other flank. Phillips and Heffner will be on tackle positions with Munson and Leverage guards. Callahan will play center.

With fair weather one of the biggest crowds of the season should be on hand to witness the battle.

Newcomers on Princeton List

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 28.—Amherst and Lehigh, two newcomers, make their appearance on the Princeton football schedule for 1924, made public today by the board of athletic control. The schedule includes seven games, all but the game with Harvard being at Princeton.

Amherst, after a lapse of football relations of 16 years, will replace Johns Hopkins in the opening game of the season, while Lehigh, another old rival, will appear in the second contest in the place of Georgetown. Lehigh and Princeton had met 26 times on the football field before their relations ended several years ago.

Of the five remaining games, but one change appears. The Navy game will precede the Notre Dame contest instead of following it. Swarthmore again appears just before the "big three" contests.

The schedule follows: Oct. 4, Amherst at Princeton; 11, Lehigh at Princeton; 18, Navy at Princeton; 25, Notre Dame at Princeton; Nov. 1, Swarthmore at Princeton; 8, Harvard at Cambridge; 15, Yale at Princeton.

HORNBY WOULD PLAY WITH CARDS
ST. LOUIS, Nov. 28.—Rogers Hornby, league leading slugger of the St. Louis Nationals, today declared that while he still is confident of figuring in some major league trade during the winter, he would play with the Cardinals next year if required. He added that he would not make the training trip, but would report prior to the opening of the season if he should remain with the Cardinals.

Hornby's difference with the management dates from the clubhouse incident in New York late in the last playing season, when he and Manager Branch Rickey were reported to have exchanged blows. Hornby asserted today that "the gap between Rickey, Branch and myself will never be bridged."

"Red" Prather Playing Real Game

The following, from the Cincinnati Enquirer will be read with interest, as young Prather is a former resident of this city before moving to Cincinnati with his parents several years ago. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Prather of Hyde Park. Mrs. Prather is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reimiger, of Ninth and John streets and is well known here. The clipping was accompanied by an excellent cut of this brilliant young football player, who is extremely popular, and deservedly so, with the younger set in the Queen City.

"Out of the University of Cincinnati these days they are calling Red Prather the most aggressive football captain the big school ever has had. That is taking in a lot of territory and Red may not be entitled to first place in that respect. But one thing is certain—Prather is about as aggressive as any one could ask a football captain to be, and he has more than made good as leader of the 1923 eleven.

Red is playing a game at right end this season that is mighty good to watch. He usually perforates without stockings or helmet, and seems to be all over the field making tackles on defensive and forming interference on offensive. His work is an inspiration to his squad and much of the success of the Bearcats is due to his leadership."

Michigan and Wisconsin Elevens Will Continue Friendly Relations Next Year

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—(By the Associated Press)—There is to be no break in the friendly relations that have existed between Michigan and Wisconsin when Western Conference Athletic Directors and Coaches meet here Friday and Saturday to arrange their 1924 football schedule.

Statements from officials in both institutions are that a game has been agreed upon to be played at Ann Arbor. Reports of a possible break grew out of the victory the Wolverines won from Wisconsin November 17 on a touchdown disputed by the Badgers. Reports from the Big Ten universities indicate that few changes are to be expected in the schedules of the seven leading elevens. The most important possible changes involve Michigan, Illinois and Chicago.

Coach Yost is said to be agreeable to the addition of a fifth conference game to the Wolverine schedule in order that Illinois may be added. Otherwise the Michigan team probably will play Ohio State, Minnesota, Iowa and Wisconsin. Chicago also is angling for a date with the Ann Arbor team. The Maroons at the same time have to consider a home and home series with Wisconsin, with the termination this year of the five year contract to play that annual contest at Chicago.

The Badgers are considering resumption of football relations with Northwestern, dropping Indiana and also are negotiating for a game with Notre Dame. T. L. Jones, athletic director, has announced. The Wisconsin schedule is likely to contain games with the colleges, Michigan, Ames, Chicago, Illinois, Michigan and Minnesota.

Chicago is reported to be dickering for preliminary games for 1924 with Brown university and the University of Southern California, Illinois, Wisconsin, Purdue, Northwestern and Indiana may be on the Maroon line-up of games.

The hard 1923 schedules arranged by Illinois and Iowa are expected to be repeated.

BY BILLY EVANS

THE QUESTION
On the fourth down with nine yards to gain, team in possession of the ball elects to try a forward pass instead of punting. There was a reason, there was a reason, the team in possession of the ball needed a touchdown to tie the score and hoped it might be possible to gain the necessary nine yards through a successful pass, thereby retaining possession of the ball. An opposing player in attempting to ground the forward pass, knocked the ball into the hands of one of the players on the team that attempted the pass. Said player carried the ball 15 yards, a net gain of six yards. The team originally in possession of the ball claimed first down. What about it?

THE ANSWER
It is customary for the referee to consider the ball dead, if, in his opinion, a player in an attempt to ground a forward pass, knocks it into the hands of one of the players attempting the pass. Contact with the ball in attempting to ground the pass, shall not be considered as actual possession and control of the ball. Hence the pass should be considered incomplete and given to the defensive team where the pass was started.

Steger Has Some Record
CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—Herbert P. Steger, captain-elect of the Michigan football team, never has played in a losing game of football.

During the four years that he played halfback and fullback of the championship Oak Park high school here, the school was undefeated. Michigan has had an unsullied record for the four years that Steger has been its star halfback.

The first time the new captain was put in a varsity game his signal was called and he ran sixty yards for a touchdown.

Letters Awarded At Chillicothe
Regulars on the Chillicothe high school football squad and the managers have been presented with their coveted letter "C".

The ones who received "C's" are as follows: Captain Paul Ludwig, (for third season), William Ketter (second season), Edwin Meyer, (second season), Edward Meyer, (second season), William Barthold, Charles Miller, Edwin Dexter, Alton Fairan, Robert Cutright, Carl Larrick, Henry Brown, Marcus Stevens and Lawrence Stocklin (manager's "C").

AN ODIUS COMPARISON

THE Paris Temps, semi-official organ of the French government, prints figures to show that since the high excise on liquors went into effect in 1919, consumption of intoxicants has decreased by one-third.

The statistician, making comparison, says in the same period the consumption in the United States has remained stationary. Where he gets his figures for the latter statement is not known. No matter, their accuracy can neither be proven nor disproved by actual figures, but their gross inaccuracy is beyond any question in an anywise fair review of conditions in this country.

Doubtless, the statistician takes into his estimate tales he has heard of rum running and moonshining, overlooking the fact that one of our old distilleries could manufacture more in a week than all the rum fleets and bootleggers could tote in a year.

In this country there is no dispute about quantity of consumption that has any substantial basis, the point is about the quality and the widespread evasion and violation of the law.

France, doubtless, has her moonshiners and bootleggers too. Many a thrifty bourgeois, doubtless, is buying grapes and making his own wine, without accounting to the government for tax and bootleggers are peddling vile concoctions about, but, of course, these products do not go into the government figures. We'll bet a penny against a franc that many opponents of the high excise are claiming more liquor is sold under it in France than when every man could openly run his own still, or press and encounter neither a ruinous tax, nor the disfavor of the law.

HIS PECULIAR ABILITIES

POLITICS do make strange bedfellows. Here's Senator Hiram Johnson choosing Frank Hitchcock to be manager of his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination. This is no reproach upon either, for both are public men of high standing, but their alliance in a political enterprise is what the French would call a mesalliance, their tactics being so divergent.

Johnson is of the rip roaring course. He would win by ever opposing; Hitchcock's methods are secretive. He works under cover always and has a vast reputation for ability to corral delegates from the South, especially Negroes.

Hitchcock was postmaster general under Roosevelt and made himself exceedingly unpopular because he was the first man in that position to attempt to put the postoffice department upon a business basis. He brought in the novel and ridiculous standard that efficiency should be the test for a job in the postoffice, and not party service, with a more or less dubious reputation for being able to handle votes.

As manager for Johnson he will put the campaign of that aspirant on an orderly course and the degree of success attained thereby will be a fair test of Johnson's real strength in his party. And one other thing is certain: That all this hurrah about Coolidge walking off with the nomination without the shadow of a light is going to be the most heartaching delusion that a gang of traffickers in office ever piped over.

West Virginia is now requiring that all automobilists shall carry not only their licenses with them, but their driver's permit. That's all right. Maybe she'll sort of even up the game that way. As it is it is her delight to "ketch" foreigners for speeding, but she can not require them to show either license or permit, since these are matters solely within the jurisdiction of the state where the car is owned. That is so at least as to permit. Courts, on view of the common theft of automobiles, might rule that it is a just and reasonable exercise of police powers to require every driver, or some one in the car, to carry the license issued by his state.

Now they are assailing the immaculate Governor Pinchot on his coal attitude. But why not on his stand towards prohibition? He professes much and criticizes other states more there, but Pennsylvania continues to be the wettest state in the union.

Now, just see. Not even the weather predictor can change our lovely climate. He told us raw and cold for Tuesday, but it was bright and just right snappy.

New York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—The 18 year old New York girls with astoundingly "modern" minds who bob their hair in the manner of the sphinx-like beauties of Egypt seem far removed from the days when fainting was a real feminine accomplishment.

About the only note of simplicity these days is in their dress. They are wearing no jewels and frocks are elongated smocks. When the winds permit, they don sandals. And rebel at everything. They do not care to have men escort them to theatres. They meet them in forgers and ask to go home alone—just to impress their independence upon male minds.

Their talk is daringly frank and there is just a tinge of bitterness expressed about the disillusionments of life. Chaparones are old-fashioned and parents are a great annoyance. It is difficult to think their grandparents once sat on horse hair sofas, embroidered with antimacassars and wouldn't go to the post office until the mail rush was over.

I remember less than 15 years ago there was a scene in a New York theatre where the heroine came down to the footlights and cried: "I want to have a baby!" Newspapers lambasted her and her play. At the opening performance several young girls waited for the curtain to drop and sneaked away in supreme mortification. Today they wouldn't give it a passing thought.

Nothing today in the theatre seems to bring the pious swoon. The plays dealing with co-ke-fieds, fall on women, and topics never discussed in the parlor in the old days have their largest attendance among young girls who have not reached their twenties.

When they go out to tea they discuss the universal discontent of humanity. There is talk of the dawn of industrial liberty—gathered from radical magazines they peruse while lounging on silken pillows gorging fudge and other sweets.

No one seems to know the reason for this sudden reign of hecens for poetic idealism. When the youngsters shed fapperism and put away the use of the Rippant Era decided that the Rippant Era was over. They must get down to profound thinking and save the world.

Between the first and second act of a "first night," when the first nighters stroll barchanded to the sidewalk, it offers the real high light of the evening. The sophisticate wants to show his fellow sophisticates what a man of the world he is—bowing to critics, men about-town, fat angels, playwrights and producers. Flasks are openly passed around. Indeed, the police-man is often asked and seldom refuses a swig. There is guarded, reserved.

THAT GUILTIEST FEELING — BY BRIGGS

Doc Koko's KOLUM

Wind Song

By Charles Wharton Stork

Oh wind, you come with a whiff of the sea

Or sweet sharp tang of the pines,

The musk of gardens you bring to me

And draughts from the wild grape vines.

Your heart is enwrought with the scent of grass,

And you bless men's thought wherever you pass.

I, too, have tasted the salt cool sea

And sipped of the pine's deep scent.

The quiet of flowers that I hold in me

With the grape's wild passion is blent.

O let me hear like the lavish wind

New joys to share with whomever I find!

Joe Kite bought a second-hand car, "day," that's only gone three hundred miles, and he says he don't see how it ever went that far. Gran'maw Moots is ninety-seven 'dars, and it he gets 't look like she'd carry her appendix 't the grave.
